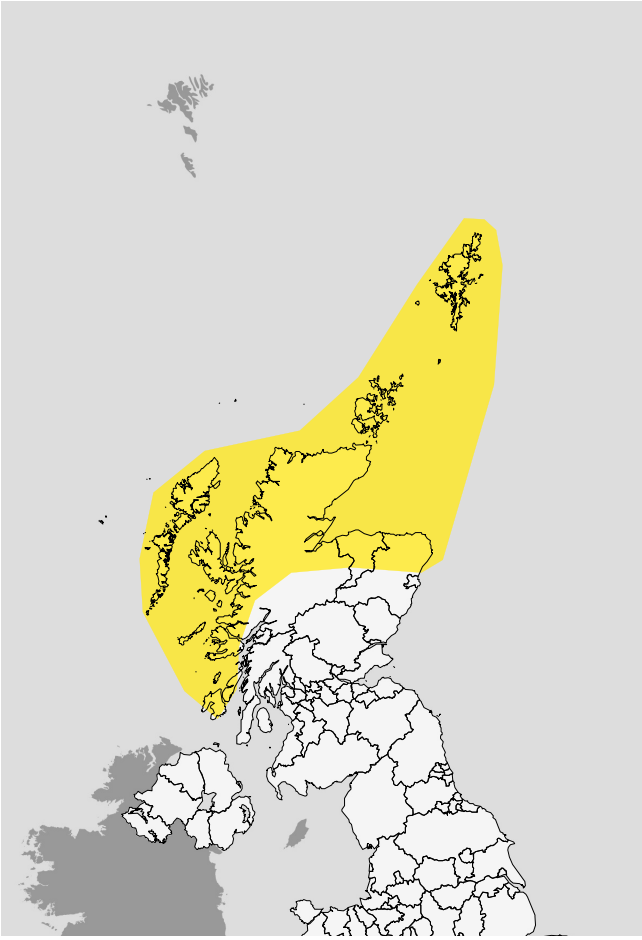
Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between
14:00 Sun 15 Jan 2023 and
10:00 Wed 18 Jan 2023



Snow showers and icy stretches may bring some disruption.

What to expect

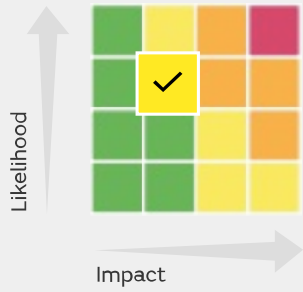
- Some roads and railways likely to be affected with longer journey times by road, bus and train services
- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths

Further details

Frequent wintry showers, mainly of snow, will feed into northern Scotland during this period. A few centimetres of snow are likely at low levels over a given 24 hour period, with the potential for 10-15 cm above 200 metres, especially across parts of the Highlands. Ice will be additional hazard, especially Tuesday night.

Reason for update

The start time of the warning has been brought forward to early this afternoon as snow showers may cause some impacts earlier in the day across the far north of Scotland.



Medium likelihood of low impacts
